

Depending on the settings, to have a more rustic look, you will need to increase or decrease the temperature in the capture one software